

ONE FATALITY IN STRIKE BATTLE; THREE ARE WOUNDED

Effort to Prevent Company's Getting Searchlight Ends In Blood

APPEAL TO CONGRESS

Federal Commissioner Wants Investigation of Colorado Conditions

DENVER, Oct. 9.—Commissioner of Education Elphinstone Stewart of the Federal Department of Labor will recommend forthwith congressional investigation of the strike of the Colorado coal miners as the result of a conference held here tonight by the mediators, Governor Ammons and representatives of the largest coal operating companies.

LUDLOW, Colo., Oct. 9.—Made Powell, a cow herder, was killed and three others were wounded late this afternoon when a battle was waged for an hour and a half between strikers and mine guards near the Ludlow tent colony. Sheriff Grisham of Trinidad, who was summoned hastily, together with almost the entire militia of the state militia at Trinidad.

When the machine was within half a mile of the Ludlow station, strikers, it is reported, began firing upon it and its occupants. No one was injured. For some while the guards who accompanied the machine returned the fire with long range. Then more guards arrived and for an hour the firing was fast and furious.

Company representatives today immediately notified Chief Grisham of the strike and he with three members of the state militia under Captain Foreman left at once on a special train for Ludlow. The fighting between the strikers and guards did not cease until the strikers, who were fighting for an abandoned, saw the approaching soldiers.

PROPOSED CONFERENCE

DENVER, Oct. 8.—Commissioner Stewart had requested the conference by letter to Governor Ammons, declaring that he had three proposals to place before the operators which he believed would serve to terminate the strike if accepted.

Governor Ammons called the conference, but after two hours' discussion the operators positively refused to agree to any of the three propositions put forward by the commissioner. Stewart then told the operators to take up the matter with the congressional investigation of the strike. The operators answered that they would appreciate such a move.

The operators present were J. F. Welborn, vice-president of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, J. C. O'Connell, chairman of the board of directors of the Victor American Fuel Company, and D. W. Brown, vice-president of the Rocky Mountain Fuel Company.

TOWN OF SOLOMON NEAR NOME LOST IN RECENT STORM

Inhabitants Said to Have Escaped But Not a Building Is Left Standing

NOME, Oct. 9.—The storm that devastated Nome wiped the town of Solomon entirely off the map. Not a building of any sort in the settlement which had a population of 2000, remained standing after the gale. It is reported all the inhabitants escaped with their lives.

The town of Solomon is on Norton Sound fifty miles east of Nome at the mouth of Solomon river. It was the coast terminus of the Council City and Solomon river railway and a supply point for the Solomon river and Casa De Paga mining districts.

Reports state that equipment of a number of dredging concerns located there were lost in the gale. The little schooner Flyer was the only vessel left in the water near Solomon.

MANIAC THREATENS DEPUTY BOTTORFF

Dynamiter McCormick Also Plans Vengeance On Stockton Officials

STOCKTON, Cal., Oct. 9.—M. J. McCormick, lunatic dynamiter, who escaped from a local state hospital and a Louisiana prisoner, mailed a letter on a Santa Fe train yesterday at some point north of Fresno and addressed it to Deputy Sheriff Bottorff of Fresno, who was one of the men arresting him years ago. McCormick said that he was headed for Stockton to kill Bottorff, assistant District Attorney Rendon and that he was also looking for Dr. Fred Clark of the state hospital here. Deputy District Attorney Van Vranken, Justice of the Peace Leoney of Tracy and others.

A Santa Fe detective left here today in search of the maniac between Stockton and Fresno. Those threatened by McCormick are armed and on the lookout for the dynamiter.

Deputy Sheriff Oscar Bottorff stated last night positively that he had not received any threatening letter from M. J. McCormick but added the information that he had received a message from a fellow man in Stockton stating that McCormick had written the saloon man a threatening letter, stating that he was also after Bottorff.

Bottorff was in Stockton early yesterday morning and talked with the officers there about McCormick's escape and his presence in the San Joaquin Valley. Bottorff mentioned that he had been informed that McCormick was after him and he thinks the report about the lunatic sending him a letter was misinterpreted in this manner.

McCormick was a former railroad man in the employ of the Santa Fe and worked under Conductor P. G. Deyo of this city. McCormick was discharged for neglect of duty and always held Deyo responsible for his dismissal. McCormick sent threatening letters to the trainmen and finally dynamited Deyo's caboose at Stockton. Bottorff arrested McCormick five months later on the desert.

McCormick was adjudged insane and committed to the Stockton asylum. He made his escape and sent letters to everyone who had been in his life that he was going to kill them. McCormick left California and was caught in Louisiana by the assistant authorities. He was sentenced to seven years in prison. McCormick made his escape from the prison in July, 1912. Nothing was heard from him until this week when a note in his handwriting was found pinned to a tree at Corcoran Junction.

CAVALRYMEN CHARGE MOB WITH SABRES

CALHOUN, Oct. 8.—Two more arrests, making six in all, in connection with the shooting of James Pellock, Jr., a deputy sheriff at Hurontown in the copper mine strike district yesterday morning were made tonight. While the deputies were making the arrests at Hurontown they were stoned by strikers and it was necessary to call out the cavalrymen who charged the mob with drawn sabres.

NEGROES AND INDIANS RIOT. LUMBURTON, N. C., Oct. 8.—Sheriff Lewis and deputies have left here for Moss Neck, nine miles distant, to quell a riot among three thousand negroes and Creole Indians gathered at a picnic fishing party. Three negroes are reported dead and an Indian deputy sheriff seriously wounded.

$150,000 MILL BURNS. KANSAS CITY, Oct. 9.—The plant of the Southwestern Milling Company burned this morning. At 2:45 this morning the destruction was said to be complete. The ten men working in the mill have not been accounted for. The loss will be $150,000.

COL. ALFRED JONES DIES. ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—Colonel Alfred Jones, who throughout the civil war served on the staff of General Sterling Price, died here today at the age of 80.

TORNADO TEARS OVER TOWNS IN CENTRAL NEBRASKA

People Injured In Country Districts But No Fatalities Reported

BUILDINGS WRECKED

Path of Whirlwind From Quarter to a Mile Wide

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Oct. 9.—An October tornado tore its way through Custer county tonight, striking Broken Bow, the county seat, a glancing blow and doing only minor damage here, but wrecking many buildings and injuring a number of people in the country districts. So far as reported, no one was killed.

Many horses, cattle and hogs were killed by the storm and the property loss is believed to be heavy. The town of Sargent is reported to have been in the direct path of the storm. Near Lodi many houses and barns were destroyed.

In Broken Bow, the damage was confined chiefly to the fair grounds, where all the buildings were wrecked. The storm developed near Lodi shortly before six and cut across country in a path varying from a quarter mile to a mile.

ORATORS ARGUE SULZER CHARGES

Alton B. Parker Declares Accused No Longer Fit to Be Governor

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 9.—Four thousand words of legal argument, scathing denunciations of Governor William Sulzer and the one-sided and vituperative charges against him, were heard in the trial of the impeached governor today.

Another day will be occupied similarly tomorrow when the high court will go into executive session. It is expected, to determine procedure. The court will probably adjourn until Tuesday.

Louis Marshall impeached the motives of those who brought the charges against the governor as based on "passion and prejudice" and Alton B. Parker denounced the governor as a man whose "uncontradicted" record showed he was no longer fit to be the chief executive of this state, and for whom it was "absolutely impossible" to regain the confidence of the people.

Judge Parker touched only briefly on article 2, which charged perjury. In discussing article 6, the "barren" charge, Judge Parker reviewed the history of all the charges and contributions brought to show that the donors contributed in the belief that they were aiding Sulzer, the candidate. Fraud was committed in obtaining money under false pretenses argued the judge, and that constituted perjury.

Those who gave him or his representatives money at the time when he had been nominated for this office and when the campaign for his election was in progress, said Judge Parker, "could only believe that the money was needed and would be expended to further his election."

"Certainly no man ever gives money to a candidate for office, unless his purpose is to aid him in his campaign honestly and generously, or else because he desires to secure a lien upon him."

"Can it be possible," Judge Parker concluded, "that with the record which lay before you, any of you could say that the governor who has not appeared at this trial is fit longer to be the chief executive of the state?"

Most of Marshall's address centered about the "money articles" in the impeachment charges charging largely in the money came in Sulzer's hands legally and that the charge of perjury was groundless because the law never required an affidavit to a campaign statement.

BANKERS DO NOT REFLECT REAL OPINION OF COUNTRY

Is President's Tart Answer to Professional Advice of Financiers

NOT PARTY MEASURE

Wilson Will Attempt to Get It Through Senate Without Caucus

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A concerted defense by administration forces against the criticisms of the currency reform bill by bankers at the Boston convention of the American Bankers' Association and against what was alleged to be an organized effort to hinder its consideration and passage served to clear the air in Washington today and to inspire a new feeling of confidence tonight in Democratic circles.

President Wilson let it be known to bankers this afternoon that he did not think the views of the Boston bankers' convention as they bore on the currency bill now before the Senate represented the general public sentiment of the country. In the President's view, the attacks on the bill by the Boston bankers represented the activities of men whom he believed to be acting with sincerity, but who as individuals refused to yield their position of control of the country's financial system.

The results of the Senate debate and of the later discussions by the President with bankers at the White House, were to develop the following facts: That no effort will be made to make the currency bill a party measure in the Senate, unless it becomes impossible to get it through in any other way. That the President believes early action on the bill is essential, while many Democratic senators will oppose any effort to unduly force the situation.

EPISCOPALIANS VIEW WEDLOCK AND DIVORCE

Discuss Marriage Laws In Regard to Catholics and Protestants

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Proposed church legislation on marriage and divorce occupied the attention of the House of Bishops today at the island general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church. Discussions of the "No Temporal" non-judicial Roman Catholic church legislation regarding Catholics and non-Catholics, led to a suggestion on the floor that the Episcopal church legislate before Congress a constitutional amendment prescribing definitely what shall constitute validity of marriage in this country.

The discussion of western New York requested the convention to consider the situation created by the Roman Catholic prohibition.

The suggestion that the church seek enactment of an amendment to the United States constitution was made by Dr. Ashton after discussion of the matter. The resolution and the Ashton amendment were referred to the committee on canon law.

NO REDUCTION FOR AMERICAN REFUGEES

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—The discontinuance of all reduced rates for American refugees from Mexico was voted by the Southern Passenger Association today, which closed its quarterly meeting here today.

The reason for which this action was taken was the fact that the national government had appropriated funds for the transportation of the financially embarrassed persons from the danger zone of the southern republic.

Financiers—notably President McKinley and Daniel Webster—and have depended on the gifts of friends to aid them.

Marshall pleaded with the court to be guided in its course only by the law. "Do not follow the will-o-wisp which here into the no-man's-land of anarchy," he said. "Let the law be the Polar star which now, as in the past, points out the path to safety."

GAMBOA DYKE TO BE BLOWN UP TODAY

Filling Canal Cut President Wilson at White House Will Press Button to Discharge Dynamite on Isthmus

PANAMA, Oct. 9.—Preparations are all completed for the destruction of the Gamboa dyke which separates the waters of Gatun Lake from the Panama cut. All the necessary changes have been made in the cables so that the electrical spark which President Wilson will transmit by pressing a key at the White House at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon may operate the switch controlling the dynamite discharge. The barrier has been mined from end to end but out of 1277 charges planted about 400 only will be fired at one shot. The others will be discharged later. The danger zone will be guarded by a strong cordon of police.

Fourteen units of the Atlantic dredging fleet were passed successfully through Gatun locks today on their way to the Gamboa dyke and will begin operations as soon as the barrier is shattered. The lock mechanism worked perfectly.

One of the guests of the occasion will be Philippe Baneu Varilla who was closely identified with the French attempt to build the canal and who is strongly opposed to the lock type of canal. He arrived here today and was taken through the locks in a tug. He expressed himself as pleased with the achievement.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—This day is written down in the London press as one which marks an epoch in history by reason of the union of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans to be effected this afternoon by the removal of the last barrier in the Panama canal. London editors pay unstinted tribute to the ability of the American engineers in overcoming the numerous obstacles of the great undertaking and say that world wide rejoicing over their success is well justified. The Times in an article on the canal said:

"The final stage today is an event in the history of mankind of which the whole human race has reason to be proud."

The Standard, referring to the proposed toast when the blowing up of the Gamboa dyke is accomplished, says: "In every country of the civilized world glasses will be raised and emptied in honor of the Panama canal and of those who conceived one of the greatest engineering projects of this or any other age, and of the men who have carried it so nearly to its completion."

Something in the nature of world wide rejoicing over the event is not only justified, but so appropriate that its omission would be inexcusable, and while American congratulation each other on what has been done by their own enterprise and energy and on their success in transforming failure into triumph, there will certainly be no disposition on this side of the Atlantic to make light of what they have done or to begrudge them credit for it."

FRENCH PRESIDENT SNUBS FAVORITE GAME OF SPANISH

200,000 Watch 20,000 Marchers and 20 Bands At St. Louis

MADRID, Oct. 9.—President Raymond Poincaré of France, who is now visiting King Alfonso at Madrid, declined today to attend a gala ball which had been arranged in celebration of the Franco-Spanish centennial. President Poincaré is a noted lover of animals.

The disease of western New York requested the convention to consider the situation created by the Roman Catholic prohibition.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—Twenty bands playing the March Ann Rhein, twenty thousand German-Americans, including the St. Louis German-American band, and well-nigh two hundred thousand spectators cheering it, formed the climax tonight to the week long celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the War of Liberation.

The largest parade ever held in this city was held here today at noon in passing. Automobiles, military organizations, turn-of-minds, singing societies, fraternal bodies and the state's National Guards each had a division in the demonstration.

Each marcher carried a red, white, and blue, or a red, white and black flag or lighted paper lantern. The black eagle of Germany screamed in union with the bald eagle of America.

MONTEREY WINS OUT OVER FRESNO

League of Municipalities Endorses State Building for San Francisco

VENUE, Cal., Oct. 9.—Monterey was chosen as the next convention city for the California League of Municipalities at its session this afternoon. It received 38 votes against 22 for Fresno and 4 in favor of Sacramento.

The selection of Monterey as the next meeting place of the California League of Municipalities came as a distinct surprise, because up to the time the matter was decided, it was not even considered a contender.

Interested in the remarkable light that was being made by Fresno, Sacramento and Richmond for the convention, Fresno seemed to have the advantage, with its delegation, twenty-two strong, although the entire city force of Richmond fifteen strong, was making a strong bid.

COURT SUPPORTS STATE PAROLE LAW

May Be Granted After Year In Jail; McNamara and Ruef Eligible

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—On a test case taken to determine the superiority of the state law providing for the parole of prisoners after the first year of their term has been served as against the federal provisions requiring that half the sentence must be served before application for release may be granted, the state supreme court today issued a mandate directing the prison board to grant the parole of James H. Baker, made five years' sentence at San Quentin.

The writ of mandate is made returnable on November 3, at which time the state prison directors must show cause why Baker should not be released subject to the state parole laws.

The decision of the supreme court paves the way for a flood of applications for parole from prisoners who have served one year of their terms.

Abraham Ruef, political boss of San Francisco who is under a fourteen years sentence and other noted prisoners including George Collins, attorney convicted for bribery several years ago, and John McNamara, serving a fourteen year term for the Los Angeles Times disaster, will, it is declared, become eligible for parole at the discretion of the state board of prison directors.

Life terms are not eligible under the provisions of the act.

HUSBAND'S HAIR

If It Is Thinning Out or Full of Dandruff, Use Parisian Sage at Once.

Most men, and husbands in particular, are careless regarding the care of the hair—until it comes out by the handful or they really take notice. Then it may be too late.

If your husband's hair is getting thin, if he has dandruff or the scalp itches and turns red, immediate action; do not let him become a bald-head.

Get from any druggist or toilet counter a 50 cent bottle of Parisian Sage. Rub it well into the scalp every night. The first application will remove dandruff. When the hair stops falling and the new growth appears use every other night until the hair is thick and abundant.

Parisian Sage is a delightful and invigorating hair tonic for men, women and children. It is a scientific preparation based on thorough knowledge of what is needed by the hair and scalp to keep them perfectly healthy and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Supply try Parisian Sage. Look for the trade-mark on every package, the girl with Auburn Hair. San Joaquin Drug Co. recommends it.

WORK ON HIGHWAY NORTH OF MADERA

Crew To Lay Concrete Base

To Northern Madera
County Boundary

Having completed the concrete work on the state highway from the city of Fresno to the city of Madera, the Worswick Company has started a crew at work on the highway near Califa, working north to the Madera county boundary line. About seven miles of concrete is to be laid.

Another crew is working south from Alhambra to Merced and is now within a very short distance of the city of Merced. There is a strip of fourteen miles, from the city of Merced south to the Madera county line for which no contract has been let, but by the first of the year almost all of that now under contract north of the city of Fresno in the sixth district, will have been completed. The northern boundary of Merced county is the northern boundary of the sixth district. The fourteen-mile strip is the only portion not under contract.

Supt. Oliver Returns From

Conference Well Pleased

With Selections Made

Rev. John Oliver, superintendent of the Fresno district of the Methodist Episcopal church, returned from Long Beach yesterday, where he had been attending the annual conference of the church and helping to re-appoint the men to the churches.

The superintendent is enthusiastic over the men appointed to the Fresno district. Rev. Oliver is a university man himself, and believes most thoroughly in a trained ministry. Speaking of the appointments, he said:

"The Fresno district got the best of the college and university men coming into the conference this year. Rev. C. M. McBride, appointed to Clovis, is one of the choice men of the conference. He is a graduate of two universities and took his post-graduate work at Harvard. The probabilities are that Clovis has never had his superior as an all-around minister."

"A graduate of the university of Southern California goes to Sanger. Rev. A. W. Gray is well trained for his task, and has proven himself able to do such work. Kingsburg church gets a fine young man in the appointment of Rev. W. W. Kaler, and J. Hunter Smith, son of Rev. Joseph H. Smith, the great holiness evangelist, will do good work at Exeter."

"But the appointments that please me most are those of Dr. C. B. Allen to Selma and of Rev. Harry S. Ryder to Parlier. These preachers are efficient servants of the church and capable of serving the entire community. The task before the church is not only to save the individual, but to so improve the community through social salvation that the Christian life may develop in a cleaner and purer environment."

The Fresno churches will be well served by Dr. Frank B. Cowgill and Rev. E. Guy Talbot. You know of the

Tulare and Kings Invited to

The supervisors resolved yesterday upon a joint survey to establish the southern boundary line of Fresno county, the line when so surveyed to be marked by permanent iron posts. The uncertainty has arisen however whether that county line is within the town boundary or beyond, twelve to fifteen feet either way. This portion of the county line survey covers only about nine miles and is an easy task, but to establish this line Surveyor McKay thought it would be likely to single out two initial points, one on the crest of the Coast range, entailing a survey of some sixty miles and involving a month's labor in the field.

For this reason the Kings county authorities will be communicated with to co-operate in the tri-county survey and once for all by an actual survey and marking of the line end a long-standing controversy as to the actual

OCEANS WEDDED

Even the greatest things dwindle by familiarity and the most difficult things well done seem easy. This is doubtless the reason why the tremendous importance of today's event at Panama will scarcely impress itself with its full force on the imagination of the world. Today, by the blowing up of the Gamboa dike, the last of the barriers between the Atlantic and the Pacific will be removed, and the waters of the two oceans will flow together. The globe around the world will be at last complete, and the actual circumnavigation of the world will now be possible. The distance around the world, for commercial purposes, is more than cut in two by the two canals at Suez and at Panama, and the commercial unity of the entire world is an accomplished fact. The importance of the event which culminates today cannot be over-estimated.

It is equally impossible to over-estimate the difficulties of the project, whose success this day signifies. For practically four hundred years the thought and the hopes of the world have been centered on piercing the isthmus of Panama. For three long generations the nations of the world have conducted official negotiations in regard to it. For practically a whole generation the French company undertook to construct this canal. The engineer in charge was the genius who had before constructed the Suez canal, and the resources at his command were even greater than those of which he had disposed at Suez. Compared with the gigantic undertaking on the American isthmus the Suez canal was child's play.

The French canal under the charge of the greatest engineer and an organizing genius of his time broke down morally, physically, administratively and financially. It was found impossible to withstand the temptations of graft, and fully half of the money subscribed for the French Panama canal was dissipated by one form or another of dishonesty. Administratively the French company was never able to form an organization sufficient enough for its task. Physically the actual excavation seemed to be beyond the possible resources of machinery and engineering skill. Medically it was impossible to maintain on the isthmus of Panama any adequate crew of workmen and keep them alive. A climate in which men could not live; a task which machinery could not accomplish; a job so big that no one was able to organize it, and a moral strain so great that the national honesty of Europe broke down under it—these were the heritage into which American enterprise came.

In its first stages even America broke down on the organization side. The finest engineers obtainable were sent to the canal and it was found impossible either to keep them on the job or to organize under them a system of men who could do the job. No private engineer was able either to withstand the temptation of compelling others at higher salary elsewhere, or to establish and maintain proper discipline of those under him. Finally the whole matter was placed in the hands of an army engineer, working at a salary which his predecessors would have regarded as ridiculously inadequate as a fee for a single visit of inspection. Under Colonel Goethals and his associates the canal zone has been transformed from a place in which neither white men nor negroes could live into one of the healthiest places on the face of the earth. An organization has been established which is a marvel of business efficiency. Engineering methods and machinery have been devised which have multiplied, first four-fold and finally eight or ten-fold even the most sanguine advance estimates of the possibilities of excavation. The entire administration has been touched by not so much as a breath of scandal, either at Panama or in the United States. And now, long before the estimated date of completion, the actual welding of the two oceans takes place today.

The canal, of course, is not completed. The channel needs to be made wider, deeper and safer, and part of the lock machinery is not yet finished. But the actual flow of water between the oceans begins today, and the actual experimental passage of the first vessel is not more than two months removed. None the miracle of the passage between the two seas will be as familiar as the other miracles of steam and electricity. The face of the earth will have been changed, but we will be so familiar with the new face that we will forget that there was ever an old face. The greatest physical task in the history of human achievement now passes its culmination. It will be celebrated more or less adequately, but actually the entire history of the world's civilization is in its real celebration.

BIG STICK RECALL

Those who regard the possible recall of thirty-six judges, even by a solemn vote of all the people, taken after months of deliberation, as an intolerable interference with the independence of the courts should contemplate the spectacle in Seattle, of the governor of the state calling into conference an independent judge and compelling him by command and threats to withdraw his judicial action and to promise in future to obey orders. Certainly there was never a more complete subversion of the independence of the judiciary than when Governor Lister issued orders to Judge Humphries and enforced those orders with absolute frankness by personal threats addressed to the judge. If the independence of the judiciary is sacred, then this act of Governor Lister was sacrilegious.

It happens, however, that the entire sentiment not merely of the public, but of the bar and the judiciary, commends Governor Lister. In fact, the associates on the bench of Judge Humphries joined with the governor in insisting on this course, and the Supreme Court of the state added its threats to those of the chief executive. Judge Humphries simply obeyed orders and was informed that he would be kicked summarily out of office if he did not. It was an emergency which justified this summary treatment, and because it was justified everybody is satisfied.

But it is exactly such emergencies and only such that will provoke the recall. Experience shows that attempts at recall are made and never succeed to invoke the recall as a mere form of appealing a case from a judge to the people. Nothing but the most intolerably outrageous conduct provokes the recall. And when it is so invoked it is certainly more dignified and no less summary than the proceeding which it was necessary to adopt in Seattle. The very best thing that can happen to some courts is to have their independence scared out of them. The sort of court which will not be independent under fear of the people is very likely to be the sort of court which is better for not being independent.

PRINT AND CROWDS

At the world's series game yesterday in New York 36,888 spectators looked on. It was an enormous crowd, far greater than any single orator could have addressed, if it were to meet for public discussion, or than any single stage could have entertained if it were an entertainment of any other sort than a great baseball game. But even that crowd was insignificant as compared to the collective crowd which watched the progress of this game before all the newspaper bulletin boards in the United States, and it was, as nothing compared with the crowd which reads of that game in the newspapers of today. Less than 40,000 persons saw that game. Probably 1,000,000 or 2,000,000 stood and cheered at the bulletin boards of the game, and probably 20,000,000 will know of the game by reading it in the newspapers.

This illustrates perhaps even less strikingly than other incidents the enormous superiority of the newspaper over other means of public appeal. In actual persons present a great ball game can gather a greater crowd of spectators than any other human event. As compared with an orator, a preacher, or an actor, the baseball game makes many times the appeal and reaches many times the crowd. The orator who has addressed a crowd of 10,000 people at once is rare; the orator who can make 20,000 people hear does not exist. The newspaper which reaches as little as 20,000 people is one of the minor factors in the publicity of printers' ink. A newspaper as large as the Republican reaches every day an audience many times greater than the exceptional audience which a world figure like Theodore Roosevelt may address a few times in his lifetime. A metropolitan newspaper addresses every day an audience scores of times greater than the greatest audiences which the most popular speaker in the world could ever face once in a lifetime.

The United newspapers of the United States reach in one day and every day more people than William J. Bryan, the most diligent orator in the history of the world, has been able to address in an entire lifetime. The newspapers entertain every day far more people than all the theaters in the world entertain in many weeks. The newspapers instruct every day far more people than all the schools and libraries in the world, combined. The newspapers inspire every day many times more people than all the preachers in the world reach once a week. And the newspapers actually assemble in front of their bulletin boards to yell at a baseball game probably a hundred times as many people as can actually succeed in going to that game and yelling for it on the spot. In other words, the newspaper as a means of bringing things to the people and of bringing the people together is so many times more efficient than all the other instrumentalities combined that it outclasses them all.

HOOK OF HAMMOCK PIERCES GIRL'S LEG

TULARE, Oct. 9.—A painful and needless accident occurred this morning by Arline Sherman, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Sherman. While she was riding a bicycle to school she lost control and ran into a fence. As she fell forward her right leg was pierced just above the knee by a hammock hook, making an ugly wound, she will be unable to attend school for some time.

The WORLD'S MYSTERIES

THEFT OF GAINSBOROUGH'S "DUCHESS"

The theft a short time ago of the famous painting, "Mona Lisa," from the Louvre, Paris, the whereabouts of which has never been discovered, recalls to mind the theft of a famous painting by Gainsborough more than a quarter of a century ago. This painting was known as "The Duchess," and depicts the beautiful Georgiana, Duchess of Devonshire, with a large picture hat and the folds of her skirt drawn up in front of her between her arms, in the hand of one of which she held a rose. It is one of the most famous works of art of its character, and copies of it have been liberally distributed throughout the world.

The theft occurred the night of May 15, 1878, when the portrait was cut from its frame in the Agnew Gallery, 29 Bond Street, London. When it had been purchased at Christie's by Agnew, the sum paid was the highest ever given at an auction for a portrait. The theft was a deep puzzle to the police. One morning the frame was found empty. The picture had been very neatly cut from the stretcher, or it had been removed from the gilt frame in which it hung upon the wall. The stretcher was left, and it showed that no unpracticed hand had operated upon the canvas, for the picture itself had been completely removed, leaving nothing but the edges on which it was mounted.

The gilt frame had the nails simply bent back and extracted, so that the thief had lost no time in needless trouble. No marks or signs remained beyond some crumpling of the drapery hanging in front of the picture. The room was not more than ten feet square, having only one window opening into Bond Street, the other being blocked and covered with cloth-bagging, and a passage opened out to the large gallery where the water colors hung.

This one window, however, was found open about two feet, and on examining the ledge outside there was distinctly visible the mark of a nailed shoe. The window had no blind to it, consequently if any thief had been used it would in all probability have been noticed by the policeman in the street, who knew that no one resided in the house after it was locked up for the night.

This duty of looking up was performed by Messrs. Agnew's porter, who had no doubt that all the fastenings had been secured when he left, and he found them intact upon his return the next morning.

The police conjectured that the theft had been accomplished by some one who had entered the exhibition room as a visitor and had managed to secure himself on the premises. Then, having cut the picture out of the frame he might easily have dropped the roll through the window into the hands of a confidential below, a feat requiring only a moment when the night policeman's back was turned.

SOCIETY

Smartly gowned women against a background of lovely decorations of autumn colorings made a charming picture yesterday afternoon at the opening meeting of the formal celebration of "President's Day." Virginia creper and English ivy were twined about pillars and about the rooms in graceful arrangement, and the hum of reunited friends after a long summer's separation served as an endearing accompaniment for the delightful musical numbers given during the afternoon by Mrs. Eliza Miller and Miss Mabel Rendick.

The reception committee, which was headed by Mrs. C. W. Musick as chairman, greeted the members in the library, where rich red dahlias lent their color to the setting. Others in the line were Mesdames H. H. Alexander, J. S. Jones, A. V. Lisenby, A. G. Wishon, J. M. Collier, M. R. Madary.

In the receiving party, which was graced at its head by Mrs. S. L. Platt, present incumbents in the office were Mesdames S. L. Platt, H. W. Neely, A. Jay Evans, W. A. Fitzgerald, J. A. Stebbins, O. L. Everts, Frederick Liddick, A. M. Drew, George W. Taylor, Miss Marguerite Humphrey, Miss Lucy Hatch.

In the dining room which was presided over by Mrs. A. M. Loper as chairman of the hospitality committee, small tables were placed where members of the committee poured coffee which was served by a bevy of club members. Among those assisting were Mesdames R. W. Dyer, J. L. Woodson, Eva Brown, W. L. Collins, N. D. Christy, George Kachler, G. G. Murray, K. W. Ruchhaupt.

Among those who had charge of the decorations which added so much to the festive scene were Mrs. W. T. Hurks, chairman, Mesdames E. J. Anner, W. T. Knowles, J. H. Austin, H. V. Armitage, T. M. Anton, H. H. Alexander, Ellsworth Awaft, W. G. Haymiller, George E. Church, T. J. Hammond.

The initial lecture of the season will be given on next Thursday afternoon when Dr. Matt S. Hughes, a well known Methodist divine, will address the members.

Mrs. Charles Bonner and Mrs. Scott McKay have issued invitations for an afternoon of bridge on Saturday, at the Sunnyside Country club.

Miss Marjorie Harris entertained informally at dinner last evening at the M. B. Harris residence on Mildred Avenue, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Post, whose marriage was a recent society event in Palo Alto, and Miss Marjorie Gray, who is a recent acquisition to the local Normal school faculty. Covers were laid for ten guests.

Mrs. W. W. Cross will be the hostess at the first meeting of the Friday afternoon Card club this afternoon, entertaining at her home on U street.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cleary returned yesterday from a delightful outing in San Francisco.

Miss Imogene Howell is down from Berkeley for an autumn sojourn with relatives in Fresno.

Miss Marjorie Harris is anticipating a visit from Miss Eliza Schilling of Berkeley, who will come down later in October for a sojourn of some length.

Fresno Musical Club Plans Encouragement to Students

Charles W. Clark, the eminent American baritone, who is one of the early bookings of the Fresno Musical Philharmonic course.

The Friday Study Club will convene this afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. M. Rohring, 165 Yosemite Avenue, to devote the study session to an interpretation of Shakespeare's "Henry V." by Mrs. W. P. Miller.

At a recently held meeting of the Board of Managers of the Riverside Country Club, some interesting plans for the activities of the club life for the winter were made, with arrangements for an informal party to be given in the near future. A house committee to further the entertainment, and shoulder other responsibilities assigned to them, was appointed, to include Messrs. T. F. Saunders, J. A. Stebbins, William Rowe.

A river committee, whose duties are to see about the improvement of the river bank and equipment for boating, bathing and other aquatic sports includes Messrs. W. P. Lyon, J. N. Beale, J. C. Forkner, and to attend to the improvement of the roadways, and setting out of the parks and grounds, there was appointed a trio of officers, Messrs. W. T. Kirman, E. J. Bullard, N. E. Carline.

The Golden Rule Circle of the First Christian church will meet with Mrs. Lester Burke this afternoon at her home 2105 Calaveras avenue at half past two.

The Philanthropic Department of the Parlor Lecture Club will be entertained at a delightful social afternoon this afternoon at the home of Miss Julia A. Sayre, 2219 San Joaquin street. The activities of the department during the past year have included, among many other things, assistance in supporting the two Traveler's Aid Secretaries, Mrs. Eva Simmons and Miss Telle, of the Y. W. C. A., both of whom will be present this afternoon, and give personal rendition of their summer experiences and work.

The Florence Nightingale Circle of the First Christian church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. Goodell, 238 Blackstone avenue.

Knox Circle of the First Presbyterian church will meet this afternoon at Knox Chapel at half past 2.

The Golden Hour Circle of the same church will convene at the home of Mrs. H. T. Cotton, 1533 Angus street.

The members of the West Park Thursday Club met yesterday, at the home of Mrs. Albert Dowlin on Jensen avenue, and spent the day merrily taking quilts and hemming household linen for one of the club members whose household goods were recently destroyed by fire.

A delightful President's Day was celebrated by the members of the Obanier Study Club yesterday, Mrs. W. J. Bloom entertaining the club at a prettily appointed luncheon. Covers were laid for seventeen, and the center of the table was made with a gorgeous cluster of La France roses and

A very praiseworthy decision has been made by the board of managers of the Fresno Musical Club in that this year the club is to encourage students so far as to offer the membership of the season for $2.50 (the tickets are not to be transferable) to pupils in either the high or normal schools under 20 years of age, who are making any course of music in the schools or making their own. Plans cards had clever contrivances for conversational "starters." The after luncheon hours were spent very pleasantly, the club being supplied from private teachers. The endorsement of the music teacher is sufficient for the application for membership. The present membership campaign is most encouraging and the members are eagerly anticipating the splendid "bookings" that are being made for the season's course.

Among the most notable will be the appearance of Charles W. Clark, the distinguished American baritone, with an exchange of vacation experiences and some musical and literary numbers contributed by talented members. Mrs. Marvin Thompson read a humorous selection by Mark Twain and Mrs. Kingsley Van Lee contributed a vocal selection. Several delightful numbers by the club quartet composed of Mesdames Kinsley, Van Lee, R. L. Harris, Albert Grimstead, and A. J. Rudy completed the afternoon's entertainment. The club will meet two weeks hence for its final study session at the home of Mrs. A. R. Nicholson.

The Bridgettes stand adjourned this week, having deferred their games of lily until next Friday, when Misses Constance and Margherita Beveridge will entertain the club at their home on Eggers' Vineyard.

The Epworth League of St. Paul's M. E. church will meet this evening for a combined business and social meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Daniel entertained very delightfully last evening at their home on Palm avenue, in honor of their son's twenty-first birthday. Ed Daniels was the honored guest. The house was beautifully decorated with greenery and potted plants. The evening was spent with various amusements, consisting of interesting games, lively music and the singing of popular songs. At the conclusion of the evening's merriment, delicious refreshments were served. Those participating in the party were: Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Daniels, Mrs. H. D. Duncan, Mrs. C. V. James, Misses Audrey Brooks, Desdie Martin, Maude Ferguson, Ira Chandler, Gertrude Jenkins, Kathryn Chandler, Eva Young, Glen Venable, Emma Scott, Maude Crawford, Mabel Moore, Fern Blade, Adeline Daniel, Dorothy Daniel, and Messrs. Jean Vincenz, Gordon Blade, Malcolm Crawford, Roger Blade, Bart Brooks, Ray Longenecker, Will Martin, Edward Hoffman, Charles Venable, George Wolfe, Ivan Long, Roy Daniel, Walter Daniel, Ed Daniel.

EXPRESS RATES EFFECTIVE NOV. 3

The state-wide reduction in Wells-Fargo express rates, ordered some time ago by the State Railroad Commission, did not go into effect on October 1, the original time set, as the commission postponed the effective date to November 3.

Further hearings on the lumber rate case, instituted by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce against the Southern Pacific, will be held in San Francisco on December 3. Incidentally the railroad commission has instituted an investigation of its own into lumber rates on all the railroads of the state.

Tenth vice president:
J. E. HOPKINS, Old Guard

Secretary-treasurer:
PAUL SCHARRENBURG, Old Guard

Delegate to A. F. of L.:
PATRICK FLYNN, Old Guard

By a vote of two to one, Daniel P. Haggerty of San Francisco was yesterday re-elected president of the California State Federation of Labor at the meeting in Old Armory Hall. F. C. Marshall of San Francisco, running on the opposition of Socialists, polled 1,175 votes against 20,272 votes for Haggerty. The vote was taken at noon yesterday and it was 5 o'clock last evening before the results were known. A total of 32,542 votes were cast. The Australian ballot system was used.

Paul Scharrenberg, incumbent, was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization for another year by more than three to one over M. R. Grunhof, the Socialist candidate from San Francisco. Scharrenberg polled a total of 23,919 votes against 7,553 by his opponent.

Patrick Flynn was elected delegate to the American Federation of Labor convention in Seattle next month over U. F. Grow of Los Angeles, a Socialist. Flynn received 19,793 votes, while Grow polled 12,862. By a resultion adopted yesterday afternoon Flynn is also a delegate to the Western Labor Immigration Conference in Seattle the first week in November.

SOCIALISTS HAVE 4 DISTRICTS.
Opposition candidates were elected in four districts without contest. Jacob Beckel, the only candidate from District No. 1, T. J. Vitach of Stockton, District No. 4, Harry Bartlett of Vallejo, District No. 5, and W. J. McQuillan of Sacramento, District No. 10, were the four who ran without opposition.

In every district where the Socialists were opposed the administration candidates were victorious. In general the majority was great, 5,000 votes being the smallest majority received by any administration candidate.

TWO NAMES WRITTEN IN.
For the first time in the history of the organization, blank spaces for the writing in of candidates were left. In both cases the administration candidates were elected by a substantial majority.

In District No. 2, the Socialist candidate, F. W. McDonald, was defeated by F. Balcher by three thousand votes. Balcher's name was written in by the voters. F. C. Marshall, the second delegate, received over 24,000 votes.

J. D. Baldwin of Richmond, defeated C. W. Herington, a Socialist, of the same place, for the Tenth District. Baldwin's name was also written in.

Paul Scharrenburg, Secretary-treasurer (re-elected.)

D. P. Haggerty, President (re-elected.)

LAMOREUX RUNS STRONG.
F. P. Lamoreux, candidate for re-election from this district, won by a vote of more than three to one over the Socialist candidate, Ludwig Keller. Lamoreux polled a total of 23,562 votes, while Keller received 8,483.

The election was one of the most peaceful in the history of the organization. Little or no confusion ensued but the various leaders were working hard all the time. President Haggerty was forced to run for order time after time in order to break up the small groups of men who gathered at the least.

Following the election, routine business was in order. A resolution declaring that no members should leave the convention until after the next meeting place is decided was adopted. This is to insure a full attendance when the selection of a convention city comes up for consideration today.

EXPECT CONTEST TODAY.
By far the fiercest battle of the convention is expected at the final meeting today, when a resolution concerning the Pacific Gas & Electric strike will come before the delegates for consideration. It is believed that Solig Schulberg of the Newspaper Solicitors' Union of San Francisco, and representative of the Pacific Light & Power Council of California, and T. C. Vickers, recently elected to the executive board of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, will look horns in the morning meeting.

At the time the strike was called, four months ago, P. H. McCarthy, president of the State Building Trades Union, refused to recognize the Light & Power Council, composed of gas workers, stationary engineers, machinists, boiler makers and the like. The latter organization was declared to have seceded from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and was not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The matter was carried to the executive board of the American Federation, the body refusing to sustain the strike on the ground that one union was not connected with the American Federation, and also ruled that no union connected with the American Federation could render assistance to the strikers. The strike was called for the reason that the Pacific Gas & Electric company refused to treat with the Pacific Light & Power Council.

Schulberg holds P. H. McCarthy personally responsible for the strike, inasmuch as McCarthy was instrumental in placing union electrical workers in the strikers' positions, declaring that those who walked out were not union men.

It is believed that T. C. Vickers, a local delegate prominent in building trades circles and Pacific Coast representative, will be elected to the executive board to co-operate with the American Federation of Labor and the International Typographical Union in organizing the representatives of California.

The incoming executive board and affiliated unions were instructed to do all in their power to organize the laundry workers throughout the state by resolution.

A resolution was passed petitioning Congress to direct the Bureau of Corporations to investigate the history of the land grants of the Organized California Railroad Company, which have been involved in a suit of forfeiture since 1908, in order that Congress may enforce the grants in cases where the conditions imposed are found to have been violated.

VISIT KEARNEY ESTATE.
Two hundred labor delegates paid a visit to the Kearney estate yesterday, making the trip in automobiles furnished by the Commercial Club. Fully fifty machines lined up at the Court House Park at 2 o'clock and within half an hour the entire number were on their way to the University of California property.

The drive to the farm was made over the nine-mile Kearney Boulevard. The return trip was made by way of Roeding Park, where the delegates were given the opportunity of seeing the principle city park of Fresno.

Visitors to the Kearney estate pronounced the trip in automobiles the most enjoyable of the week. Clad in a cloak of green, the shrubbery and groves presented a beautiful spectacle to the several hundred labor men. A number of speeches were made at the entrance to the grounds and made a short tour through the groves and arbors on foot.

Tribute without number were paid the late M. Theodore Kearney for the judgment and the art displayed in the selection of sites and the general effect of the various plots and location of drives. All were surprised to find that the estate was a self-sustaining one and the most valuable property of the University of California.

A minute inspection of the manor and outbuildings was made by a number of the visitors, owing to the short space of time given to the visit it was impossible for the delegates to visit every portion of the 5000 acres. The grounds were in excellent condition.

Returning via Roeding Park, the delegates were given the opportunity of viewing the recently constructed work at close range. Members of the San Francisco delegation noted a similarity to Golden Gate Park.

250 ATTEND BANQUET.
The annual banquet of the Federation was held last night in Old Armory Hall, with covers laid for 250 delegates. Nearly 200 were in attendance.

The fight of the past four days was forgotten and the local committee turned the evening into a general love feast. Support of every delegate to the continuance of the labor movement was pledged by the newly elected officers of the state in stirring speeches.

A feature of the meeting was the number of women who attended. Fully a hundred women delegates, wives and daughters were present to lend the feminine touch to the annual banquet.

Greenery, flags and the varied colored pennants of the visiting delegations formed the decoration for the evening. A six-piece orchestra furnished the music.

A TRIBUTE TO THE WOMEN.
Andrew J. Gallagher, president of the San Francisco Labor Council, paid an admiring tribute to the wives and women delegates present. Following introductory remarks, in which he stated that the convention had been one of the most harmonious in the history of the Federation, Gallagher launched upon a subject upon which he had much to say, and he informed his audience.

Gallagher's audience caught up his first remarks and at the least provocation greeted him with applause. His appearance at the opening of the banquet was sufficient for an outburst

Western Labor Immigration conference, as the resolution providing this measure was adopted. The proposition was presented to the convention by A. F. Harrison of the San Joaquin County Central Labor Council of Stockton.

The committee on law and legislation reported favorably on the resolution presented by Paul Scharrenburg, which favors an amendment to the existing laws providing school trustees to take their school district bonds to the federal trustees of the postal saving fund and borrow money thereon, instead of working through a third party, as at the present time.

In an adopted resolution the convention declares for the compensation of government employees injured in service, the laws to embody all compensation for every day of disability, a more adequate death benefit instead of one year's pay; (c) compensation to extend for a greater period than one year if injuries are serious. The resolutions were referred to Congress and the American Federation of Labor.

Declaring that the present state law prohibits a large portion of the working people from voting, a resolution was proposed, amendment to the state constitution was adopted. Following is a section of the proposed amendment: "No person shall be deemed to have gained, or lost, a residence by reason of his, or her, presence, or absence, while employed at his, or her, profession, trade, or occupation, in making a living for himself, or herself, or for the support of his, or her, family, and he, or she, shall be entitled to vote in any state election for any officer, to be elected by the whole state, or for any constitutional amendment, initiative, referendum, or recall petition, to be voted upon by the whole state, and upon presentation of his, or her, certificate of registration at any polling place in the state, and making oath that he, or she, is absent from the precinct, where he, or she, resides, through, or on account of, making a living."

Assembly bills No. 752 and 1,052, tending to improve labor conditions, which were defeated at the last session of the legislature, were again endorsed.

A resolution petitioning Congress to pass a law giving the Forest Service power to carry on a commercial lumber business, the law to be similar to the Lindbergh-Bryan bill now before Congress, was passed.

A resolution presented by F. P. Lamoreux, instructing the incoming executive board to co-operate with the American Federation of Labor and the International Typographical Union in organizing the representatives of California, was adopted upon favorably.

The incoming executive board and affiliated unions were instructed to do all in their power to organize the laundry workers throughout the state by resolution.

Gallagher's audience caught up his first remarks and at the least provocation greeted him with applause. His appearance at the opening of the banquet was sufficient for an outburst which was prolonged for several minutes. "To the wives of the men in the labor movement belongs the credit for a greater portion of that work accomplished," declared Gallagher. "They are the real heroes of the movement, a silent, potent part is played by the wives of the delegates. Their sacrifices and suffering never reach the public ear, but still they continue their work."

"Before me here I have a picture of contentment. Men and women have fought and have gained a portion of that which they have battled for. But in my mind's eye I see smaller pictures—a picture of thousands and thousands of women, whose hands are bleeding with the tasks which they are forced to perform. True, labor has gained for them many things and labor will in the future gain many more, but the right must come until the movement has raised them above dollars and cents."

"The trade unions of California are in good hands," said Haggerty and Paul Scharrenburg have again been elected to lead the movement and this time next year, it matters not to me, if McCarthy and Gallagher had been chosen by the majority of these delegates assembled, as then I would have followed. I am in the movement for the good of the labor party and it matters not to me whether McCarthy or Gallagher leads the movement. All I ask is that the other side, if there is another side, join with us in showing a greater advancement when we meet next year."

TO DELIVER CHILDREN.
That the labor movement in this county had a sacred duty to perform in leading the little children out of the factories and workshops was the statement of C. F. Grow, representative of the Los Angeles Labor Council.

"We want the generation of the future to be physically perfect," said Grow, "and the only way in which this can be done is by giving them play and education. They are to take our places within a few years and the children must be prepared."

At the conclusion of Grow's address, the orchestra struck "We Went to Home Last Morning." Two hundred masculine voices joined in the selection, and the room was filled with the refrain.

Paul Scharrenburg spoke for a few moments on the general labor movement and was greeted with rounds of applause.

Several vocal selections were rendered by delegates. T. C. Vickers brought the banquet to a close with a short address.

Chinatown Draped In American and Chinese Flags;

Hold Holiday Today

Local Chinese will today hold a celebration in honor of the new president of China, Yuan Shi Kai, and many stores will be closed. Firecrackers will be discharged and a holiday will be observed in Fresno's Oriental section. Last night American and Chinese flags were draped about the stores. Fong Kee, who is arranging for the celebration in honor of the new president, said last night that nothing special had been prepared and that only the streets would be closed and the streets decorated.

CHENERY REPORTED TO BE IMPROVING

According to report from San Francisco last night, John C. Chenery, former purchasing agent for the Stone-Webster Construction Company here, has been removed from the Central Emergency hospital by U. O. Growling, purchasing agent for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, to the Affiliated College, where he is being treated. His condition was much better last night.

The gymnasium class of the Young Women's Christian Association met for the first time at 7:30 last evening under the direction of Miss Marion Gray, the new physical director. The principle work was the organization and discussion, little physical culture being attempted at the initial meeting. The schedule for the winter classes was proposed.

The drive to the farm was made over the nine-mile Kearney Boulevard. The return trip was made by way of Roeding Park, where the delegates were given the opportunity of seeing the principle city park of Fresno.

DISCOVER OIL WHILE DRILLING WATER WELL

Rancher Near Edison, In Kern County, Makes Valuable Find On Ranch

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 9.—Oil sand and petroleum gas have been discovered at Edison in a depth of 400 feet in a water well being drilled by George Hay and his associates. The discovery is strong, and there is a good showing of sand. The well is being drilled on the northeast quarter of section 6, 36-20. About three miles east of Edison, and one mile north, the well was projected, but now the owners will go down 1000 feet, or even deeper, to test the territory. In the meantime there is a good deal of excitement in the vicinity. Mr. Hay has filed an application for a lease on the land on which the well is being drilled, and there has been 24 hours a perceptible stiffening in prices.

BAY CITY OIL MAN VISITS LOST HILLS

LOST HILLS, Oct. 9.—Dudley Moulton, manager of the Dudley & Dudley Oil company, arrived from San Francisco today, on a business trip of a few days, for the company. Mr. Moulton, who was formerly superintendent of the Dudley & Dudley property in the Lost Hills, is now located in San Francisco, only making occasional trips to the field.

ARGENTINE IS TO DEVELOP OIL FIELD

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9.—The Argentine government is about to issue bonds to the extent of $2,500,000 for developing oil wells in the Comodoro Rivadavia district. Machinery is to be installed capable of handling an output of 1,200,000 tons of oil per annum.

UNITED STATES TO DEVELOP FUEL OIL

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9.—It is said in Washington that the Navy Department is anxious to enter the oil game for the purpose of supplying our warships with liquid fuel and with this end in view will invade the Oklahoma oil fields. The department of the interior, it is said, has been approached and conferences between officials of the two departments of the government looking to permission being given the Navy Department to bid with private concerns in the distribution of all lands in Oklahoma. It will be recalled that recently about 15,000 acres of oil land in Oklahoma, now operated for the benefit of the Osage Indians, who receive the proceeds from one barrel out of every six produced, was advertised by the government for distribution to private corporations. While the Navy Department does not view with alarm the sale of land out of this territory, it has suggested to the interior department that the navy be given opportunity to control a large acreage out of the remaining fields.

Two proposals are under consideration for the operation of the fields which the navy may obtain. The first provides for direct operation by officers for the navy, the other contemplates the leasing of the navy wells to private corporations on a share basis, the private concerns agreeing to run pipe lines to Port Arthur, Texas, from which point the fuel oil can be loaded in the battleships.

CLUB FOR OIL MEN IS FORMED IN MARICOPA

Prominent Men of Sunset
Field Form Society for Mutual Benefit

MARICOPA, Oct. 9.—At a meeting of the prominent oil men of the Sunset field held in Maricopa Tuesday evening tentative plans for an oil and business men's club were formed, and the first work of organizing the organization was commenced by securing to take membership in the club should sufficient membership be secured to assure the organization of being a success.

The meeting was called after several superintendents and operators had talked over the matter and decided to see what could be done toward the formation of a club in which the men could meet and make headquarters in while in the city. The matter made such headway that the meeting, held in attorney H. H. Bell's office, was well attended and a foundation for the club was laid.

A committee composed of E. H. Conklin, Charles Dickinson and Frank Minium was appointed to investigate the probable cost of securing quarters and the furnishing of same, to report at another meeting which will be held on October 20th.

Among those at the meeting were H. H. Madden, superintendent of the Kern Trading & Oil Company; J. B. Tait, superintendent of the Bronco and Sunset Extension Oil Companies; S. G. Tryon of the Maricopa 28 and M. T. Oil companies; W. C. McCutcheon and George McCutcheon, operators of the McCutcheon lease; J. B. Horner, G. H. Moore, superintendent of the Sunset Monarch properties on the West Side; Fred Gregory, superintendent of the August leases; V. G. Hutchins, of the Ruby Oil Co.; Charles Dickinson of the Sunset Security and Good Roads Oil Co.; G. P. Adams, of the Sunset Monarch; E. J. Johnson of the Gite City; H. J. Swayne of the Moccasin; Charles Brogert, E. H. Conklin, Frank Minium and M. Long-fellow. The enrollment of members was continued on Wednesday when the roll was left at a local business house, and the following well known business men signed for membership: Postmaster E. E. Brown, C. Z. Vander Horst, George F. Feister, C. Z. Irwin, W. H. Coons, Guy Jett, W. Y. White, J. B. Malloy, Dr. H. A. Ballagh, E. E. Ballagh, G. Goodwin, H. H. Bell, H. C. Mosher, C. W. Beatty and J. J. Wagy.

EXPORT IN AUGUST NEARLY 24,000,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Exports of domestic mineral oil for the month of August from Pacific Coast customs districts were as follows: according to official statistics: San Francisco, 23,912,691 gallons, valued at $411,053; Southern California, 19,284 gallons, valued at $1,814; Washington State, 5,498,210 gallons, valued at $222,552. In view of the fact that practically all mineral oil is produced in Oregon or Washington exports from the latter are necessarily oil produced in California.

SENSATIONAL CHINESE ACT IS HEADLINER AT EMPIRE

Spectacular Melodrama
Thrills Crowds At Popular Theater

The big headliner this week at the Empire is the one-act melodrama "The Yellow Fang," a play powerfully acted and full of thrilling encounters and heart-rending scenes. It is one of the most sensational acts ever booked for a vaudeville theater.

The leading parts are taken by Mr. and Mrs. King. The latter as the daughter of a Chinese opium den is particularly good in her dramatic setting. The whole thing deals with the underground life of the Chinese and shows how they bring men in to the opium den to rob them. The setting shows an opium den with all of its dark interior. The play which is typical for Mr. Millard tells of one that almost duplicates it which happened when he was playing in Australia.

Some interesting stories and relics have been brought to light by the book of this play. Mr. Hesse has his possession a Chinese lantern many years old which hung for a long time in an opium den in San Francisco. Probably scores of crimes such as are represented in "The Yellow Fang" have been committed beneath its light in the past. Another interesting relic is the marshal's star with two bullet holes in it. This was given to Mr. Millard by the man who wore it at the time, and who is now chief of police of Santa Rosa. The star and a pocket book he had on him when he was raiding an opium den. The force of the bullets knocked him down, but he managed to recover in time to get his man, a white renegade who lived with the Chinese.

Another big act on the new bill running for the last half of the week is the Georgia Trio, three of the funniest mortals who ever entered vaudeville. Blackface acts are mighty good when they are good at all. This is so good that it is given the place of honor. It is a scream, riot, the sends some of the audience to the verge of hysteria. "The Thelma Duo" is an act that is making a hit. This act has been in Fresno before and never fails to make a distinct sensation with its wooden shoe dancing, talking and singing of songs that are good. The title of the sketch is "The Holland."

"The Dunsboroughs" in Irish songs and comedy are good. While Harold Harty with his expert wire performing and juggling is a wizard along this line. He performs astounding tricks. The pictures are good and are much enjoyed, particularly by the children. Tickets to the Empire can be reserved by phoning 942. Shows at this time of year begin at 7:45 and 9:15.

MAJESTIC TO HOLD CHORUS CONTEST

Tonight is the regular night for the chorus girls' contest at the Majestic and a specially good program has been arranged. This is to be a regular feature at the Majestic every Friday night.

The chorus girls' contest is in addition to the regular bill. Each of the girls has been practicing hard during the week in order to win a cash prize. That prize that will be given to the young lady who meets with most favor with the audience.

Fred Weiss heads the company. The present bill "Talamoosa," an Indian play, is one of the most amusing musical comedies that has been played in Fresno in many a day.

There is a member of the company playing at the Majestic whose name has been known in theatrical circles for many years. His name is Matt Burton and he has played heavy parts for more than a quarter of a century. Mr. Burton was with the company that opened the Barton theater 24 years ago, and has been associated with some of the greatest players who ever visited the Pacific coast.

The chorus girls' contest tonight will be a rare treat. The audience is made up of people who attend the Majestic regularly and all have their favorites. All are boosters for their candidates and much enthusiasm is aroused.

Beginning Sunday night there will be an entire change of program. Mr. Weiss, the funny Hebrew comedian will take the leading part in the laughable comedy, "The Piano Movers." Two of the characters, a Hebrew piano and a walking delegate from the union, furnish a large portion of the fun.

One of the big hits from ragtime land that will be introduced with the new show is "You Keep Your Eye On Me." This will be sung by Miss Edith Berger, the clever little soubrette who takes the part of Miss Downup in the new comedy.

Every Tuesday night is amateur night, and already a number of amateurs have been secured for the big night. Admission to the Majestic is 10, 15 and 20 cents. It is located on the corner of Kern and E-streets, and is a thoroughly modern and up-to-date theater that compares more than favorably with any in the city.

STATE MONEY COMES FOR COUNTY SCHOOLS

County Treasurer Hickman has received from the state $108,747, as the first installment of school money due this county and the superintendent of the office will have made appointment next Monday to the districts. The money has come at an opportune time for some of the districts have been running low on money to pay teachers off. Under a new law the county tax money is to be distributed in December will be divided in a division of 50 per cent for the teachers and 50 per cent for the expense and library funds. Heretofore the proportion was 60 for teachers and 40 for the other funds. The latter are benefitted by the new division rate. At the same time the superintendent warns trustees against enlarging upon district obligations.

"MARY MAGDALENE" TO BE PRESENTED TONIGHT

In the light of the present day upheaval in the struggle of woman for a "square deal" from man, Mrs. A. W. Scott, who presents Masterlinck's "Mary Magdalene" at the Barton tonight, has come to be looked upon by the members of her sex as a woman inspired who is teaching an impressive and effective lesson from the stage.

To use the vernacular, Mrs. Scott has "arrived" as a modern stage celebrity, say dramatic authorities. With her fine intelligence, her beauty and superb, perfect figure, her natural grace and rare musical voice, she seems destined to become the foremost tragedienne of her time, if in fact she has not already reached that high position. Some writers say of her that she is a composite figure of all the great American emotional actresses of the past set down suddenly in this hurly-burly, bustling age of big emotions to electricity and awaken shuddering souls.

Be that as it may the people of Fresno will have an opportunity tonight to judge of that at first hand. Mrs. Scott is said to have had such a brilliant beginning in her stage career that her debut sure to make history in the dramatic world. Critics are rubbing their eyes and wondering who rubbed Aladdin's lamp and set this beautiful, talented and superb woman down in stardom. Not a dramatic actress has been found who could so perfectly depict such a wonderful woman, nor who has found any reason to justify him in so doing.

As for the play of "Mary Magdalene," it is said that "there is nothing in modern drama which excels in the majesty of its simplicity and its lines and construction." It is spectacular and is magnificently staged. The costumes are gorgeous and brilliant and the supporting company is said to be one of the strongest on the road. In the cast are Mrs. Mayor Rose, said to be the American stage and J. H. Green, recently of New York, whose record numerous brilliant successes.

"The Traffic"

The wonderful and impressive white slave drama, "The Traffic," comes to the Barton tomorrow night and Sunday night direct from a four weeks' engagement in San Francisco and five weeks in Los Angeles, playing to capacity houses nightly in both cities and many nights turning hundreds away. The play caused a great deal of comment in Los Angeles and Mrs. H. H. Rose, wife of Mayor Rose, said: "I think the play, 'The Traffic,' teaches a wonderful lesson. I believe if every young girl in the city would see this play she would be directly benefited. She could not help guarding herself from temptations if she would see the consequences of yielding painted so vividly."

"If every mother were to see the drama she would awaken to her great responsibilities. She would guard her daughters and sons and instruct them in the way they should go."

"I do not believe there is any man who, after seeing 'The Traffic,' would continue to live the life of shame or ever enter it. It should arouse every speck of real manhood."

"Officer 666"

A battle of wits that is viewed with intense interest as waged by the south and the crookedman in "Officer 666" has made that play the most interesting production given to the American stage in many years, and easily the most talked about. It succeeded in creating a veritable sensation when presented in New York and Chicago last season, where the interest aroused kept the box office busy and the theaters crowded during its record run in the eastern and western metropolises.

"Officer 666," which will be seen here at the Barton next Tuesday evening, is a jolly farce, and the secret of its wonderful appeal may be attributed to the riddle that its plot presents, the solving of which is accomplished in a perfect maze of intrigue and lightened by the unfolding of a charming love story that threads the three acts of Augustin Macfagh's thrilling detective story.

The seal will be open tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

BREAKS A WORLD'S RECORD IN TROTTING

Uhlman Cuts Mile With Running Mate From 1:58 to 1:54 1/2

Quarters Made At Lexington Track In 28 3/4, 57 1/4, 1:25 1/4 and 1:54 1/2

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 9.—Uhlman, the world's champion trotter, owned by C. K. Billings, latched on to a running mate, lowered today the world's record for a mile at 1:54 1/2. Uhlman set the previous record at 1:58 last year. Uhlman made the quarters in 28 3/4, 57 1/4, 1:25 1/4 and 1:54 1/2.

Cheeny captured the Transylvania stakes for 2:08 trotters, the feature of the Grand Circuit today. Cheeny's best time was made in the third heat when she trotted the mile in 2:04 3/4, equaling her own record.

In the 2:05 pace, carried over from yesterday, Michigan Queen won the fourth and final heat in 2:03 3/4, lowering her own record a second and a quarter.

The 2:17 pace was won in straight heats by A. G. McKendrick's Vastness. The 2:12 pace went over until tomorrow after Chas. A. had won the first heat; J. W. Wilkerson the second and Hydrice the third and fourth heats.

CHICAGO CUBS BEAT SOX IN THIRTEEN INNINGS

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—In a thrilling thirteen-inning battle the Chicago Nationals made the standing in the Chicago championship series 1 to 1 this afternoon, downing the American leaguers before 23,350 persons. In the fourth inning Chappel let loose a wild throw that struck the grandstand; Schalk muffed a throw from Lord that let in a run, and Bodie misjudged Archer's short fly so badly that two runs counted on the hit.

Benz succeeded Cicotte in the fifth, to give Zimmerman single. Saler walked, Good filled out, and Bridwell was passed. With the bases full Archer shot a drive into left and Zimmerman counted the winning run. Score:

Is Greeted With a Home Run

OAKLAND, Oct. 9.—Los Angeles shut out Oakland today in a game which proved featureless except for the first and ninth innings, when the four runs were made, the final score being 4 to 0. Killaly, pitching for the Oaks, was taken out in the ninth and Schwenk replaced him. Arbogast, catcher for Los Angeles, hit him for a home run to the club house, scoring Sawyer ahead of him and the game was over. The series now stands 2 to 1 for Los Angeles. Score:

ELEVEN INNING GAME FOR VENICE

One Lone Run Made After Close Work All Afternoon

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9.—"Speed" Harkness held the Portland batters at his mercy today while it took Venice eleven innings effectively to solve the delivery of West. It was the third straight victory for the Tigers and it placed them within striking distance of the pennant. The score was 1 to 0 and the lone tally was counted when last expected. With one out in the eleventh, Carlisle singled to right for his first hit of the game. He was held on first base when Kane popped to Chadbourne. Bayless, the only man on either club who had connected safely more than once, was up and drew a base hit. Then West "grooved," drove one and the ball sailed high over Chadbourne's head to the center field fence, Carlisle scoring.

The batters did not get a clean hit. In the second Kores reached first on an infield play and Derrick repeated this performance in the ninth. In the eighth Harkness fanned three men, two of whom were pinch hitters, and on two occasions with runners on third he ended the inning by striking out the batter. Score:

REMARKABLE GAME OF ST. LOUIS BIG LEAGUERS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—The St. Louis Nationals defeated the Americans by a score of 1 to 0 in the opening game today of the city championship series.

Teams, which finished eighth in their respective leagues, put up a wonderful exhibition. Salley and Weiland were the pitchers that worked in the duel of left handers. The Nationals secured but one hit off the Brown's elongated twirler.

The run was the result of a pass to Whittier. O'Leary then hit to Wilmar

4 CENTS OFFERED BY ASSOCIATED FOR MUSCATS

Wants to Buy All Standard
Goods Not Now Under Any Contract

Indicates for First Time
What Returns May Be Expected

The California Associated Raisin Company will pay 4 cents a pound for all standard Muscat raisins, in sweet boxes, that are not now under contract to this corporation, made yesterday by James Madison, manager of the Associated, is taken as the first indication of what growers, affiliated with the Associated, may expect to receive for their raisins, when a final settlement is effected.

While the Associated is not in any position, at the present time, to say what returns it expects the growers to receive ultimately, the fact that it is willing to pay 4 cents a pound to outside growers, is taken by those inside to mean that they can expect returns of better than 4 cents for their 1913 raisins, when the final settlements are made.

There are probably not more than 1,500 or 2,000 tons of new raisins in the state that are not under contract to the Associated now, but thus far outside packers have not been able to secure them at any figure, although buyers for Armistead, Guenzel, Chaddock and Incorporated have made some very alluring offers.

The offer of the Associated is effective at once and it is expected that representatives of the company will immediately make an effort to gather in all the remaining unsold raisins. Reports from the East are to the effect that raisins are being held very firm in all quarters. For a time, after the Associated started operations, there was a tendency to oppose its activities, especially among the larger buyers, who seemed to doubt that the corporation was actually in control of the situation on the coast. Later developments showed it to be in absolute control and the opposition has gradually worn down.

Several of the large buyers have made purchases, although it is said that one of two of them who brought from the Associated, although subscribing to a general agreement to hold off, are busy making deals. Buying has not assumed the proportions reached in other years, however, but still there is a steady demand for goods from the East and already, it is said, the Associated has sold enough 1913 raisins to pay for the entire crop. While packers report that their sales have been somewhat slow, there is no complaint being made about conditions from any source.

OPPORTUNITY OFFERS TO TEST ANTI-ALIEN LAND LAW IN FRESNO

Deeds Absolute Recorded
From Japanese to Foreign Corporation

The opportunity presented itself yesterday of making a test case under the state law against the anti-alien land ownership act, when Attorney E. A. Williams offered for record and recording for the first time two deeds by a Japanese to a corporation with a foreign title.

The instruments are dated and acknowledged as of August 2, 1913, when the law in question did not become operative until eight days later. Attorney Williams says he gave caution to make early record of the instruments, but that the grantees overlooked the warning and that the instruments were not recorded. He did not learn until yesterday, when he was called upon for some legal business for the corporation.

Recorder Barlow raised the point how was he to know that the instruments were not dated back, but the attorney declared that this is not the fact and asked that the two deeds be recorded for what they may be worth, leaving the question of their validity a matter for future consideration in the event that the authorities should institute contest.

The deeds would seem to present a source case under section 5 of the alien land act, which reads: "Any real property hereafter acquired in fee in violation of the provisions of this act by any alien mentioned in section 2 of this act, or by any company, association, or corporation mentioned in section 3 of this act, shall be subject to and become and remain the property of the State of California. The attorney general shall institute proceedings to have the record of such real property adjudged and enforced in the manner provided by section 44 of the Political Code."

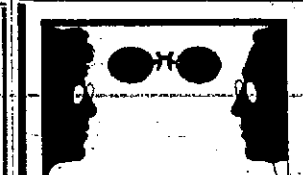

Upon the entry of final judgment in such proceedings the title to such real property shall pass to the state of California.

One of the deeds is by M. Nishikawa to the Otis and Kengin Land company for a 25x150 rectangular piece of land in the NE 1/4 of section 15-22 on the Santa Fe railroad. The other is by I. Shikakami and others to the same company for lot 23 in Fresno City block 32 and the SW 1/4 of lots 1-4 in city block 29 on Tulare street, subject to mortgage.

The deeds are the first to be recorded making conveyance between aliens in fee simple. Attorney Williams said the recording of them was possible with the intention of furnishing the basis for a test case.

ASK TRUSTEES FOR ALL DAY MARKET FOR WINTER SEASON

A movement is on foot to continue the public market all day during the winter season on the three marketing days of the week. A petition was being circulated yesterday to ask the trustees to amend the ordinance so that the closing hour of the market during the winter season may be at 6 o'clock.

TAX PAYING OPENS NEXT MONDAY; CLOSES NOV. 24

Collector Charged Up With Sums Payable In the Seven Towns

County May Be Out Expense for Collections
Made Last Year

Collector A. B. Smith is ready to begin the annual tax-collecting. Collections of the first installment, due on the 1913-14 taxes will begin at 6 o'clock next Monday morning. Delinquency for non-payment will fall on November 21 at 6 o'clock in the evening. The second installment of taxes will be due on the first Monday in January and delinquency on the first Monday in April, 1914. Even at this date property owners are calling at the office for their tax bills, but the rule is not to give out any until Monday next.

The auditor's office is finishing up its calculations based on which the collector is being charged up with the sums of money to be collected as taxes. The figures of how much will be collected as municipal taxes are shown in the following tabulation:

	Valuation.	Tax.
Fresno No. 1	$1,358,910	$163,993.15
Fresno No. 2	2,882,645	32,169.09
Fresno No. 3	1,095,120	11,169.45

	Total	$18,347,875	$207,441.69
Coalinga	1,156,135	13,537.17
Selma	921,970	13,197.22
Reedley	817,680	9,566.56
Clovis	101,355	7,522.26
Stanger	400,350	4,278.43
Flower	348,740	4,277.47
Kingsburg	318,815	1,144.93

An unexpected development yesterday in the tax-collecting problem is the one that the county has probably "slept too long on its rights," and will not be able to collect all of the $232,116 which collector Smith reports was the extra expense that was entailed upon his office in the collection of the 1912-13 taxes for the seven incorporated towns.

The district attorney had advised that the claim is a legal one in behalf of the salary fund of the county, the expense to be deducted from the taxes collected for the municipality and still in the custody of the county officials. Settlement, however, has been made with the county treasurer, so that there is no city tax money "still in the custody of the county officials," unless possibly in the case of Fresno city with the money in its unappropriated fund.

The tax-collecting claim against Fresno city is for $136,800, and the question is whether as on a previous occasion the supervisors will cause a city money transfer to be made to reimburse the county salary fund for the tax-collecting expense. County Treasurer Hickman is the money keeper for no city or town in the county other than Fresno.

SPECIALIST TO MEET WITH DAVIS' DOCTOR

Serious Condition of Wounded Officer Alarming;
May Undergo Operation

Because of the precarious condition of Furber, who was shot last month by John Motley, a member, the Police and Fire Commissioners held an informal meeting last evening at which Dr. Floyd Burks, the attending physician, was present, and it was decided to have a specialist from San Francisco come to this city and hold a consultation with the doctors. Word was sent to a doctor at the French hospital in San Francisco and he announced he would arrive in Fresno tonight.

Furberman Davis' condition is about the same as it was a week ago, although he was a trifle worse Wednesday, but gained his strength yesterday. Dr. Burks has called several local doctors to the bedside of the officer, and they have all advised against an operation to probe for the bullet, having the same opinion as the attending physician. The bullet has been located by the X-ray, but is shifting its position every time the patient coughs or moves.

The San Francisco specialist is being sent for in the hope that he can render valuable assistance to the local doctors, he having handled many cases similar to Davis'. If necessary, Davis will be taken to San Francisco.

The patrolmen last night decided to ignore every cent in the relief fund to save the life of their brother officer. No action has yet been taken regarding the payment of Davis' doctor and salary bill, but if the money is not advanced by the city the police will foot the expense.

Baseball Bulletins

Reports by innings of the games of the world series will be bulletined at the Fresno Republican, K and Tulare streets, this morning and throughout the series. The Associated Press report is received by operator in the Republican office as fast as flashed across the continent and is placed at once on the street.
